

March 31, 2010

RE: Google Fiber for Communities – Round Rock, Texas

Dear Google:

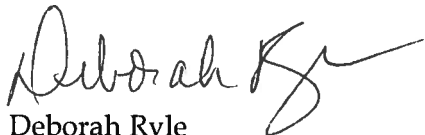

On behalf of St. David's Round Rock Medical Center, I am writing to commend Google for pioneering the Fiber for Communities experiment. We are behind this innovative project and the City of Round Rock's application to be among the communities selected for trial.

We have a history of success operating and expanding in Round Rock as the city's population has skyrocketed. In the summer of 2006, we completed a five-year, $100 million expansion. This expansion almost doubled the size of St. David's Round Rock Medical Center and features the most advanced high-tech digitized technology available. With a total of 170 beds, the expansion included the addition of a three-story medical tower, a new intensive care unit (ICU) and a new surgery department, along with the infrastructure to support these expansions.

The Web is critical to how we interact with patients, families, physicians and the community as a whole. We are thrilled at the possibilities and implications of having a 1-gigabit-per-second connection.

Thank you in advance for considering Round Rock.

Sincerely,

Deborah Ryle
Chief Executive Officer